

He lectures international economics at the Global Studies Institute of the University of Geneva, Switzerland since 2008. He worked for the United Nations from 1989 to 2017, first at the UN Centre for Transnational Corporations in New York before moving in 1992 to the UN Economic Commission for Europe in Geneva. He was born in 1957 in Novi Sad, Serbia. He completed his education in economics by shuttling between the Universities of Novi Sad, Belgrade, Amsterdam and Queen's University (Kingston, Ontario). Throughout the 1980s he worked on and off in the oil business, most notably in the Middle East. During that time he also studied with the help of grants from both the Dutch and Canadian governments.

More about on <http://www.miroslavjovanovic.com/>